1. INTRODUCTION

Arvo Pärt Centre mission is to be the carrier and the promotor of Arvo Pärt's creative heritage and the world of ideas.

The core of the Arvo Pärt Centre is the archive which comprises information and documents related to the composer’s work in both physical and digital formats (manuscripts, sketches, photos, recordings etc.). The archive and library are accessible to everyone who are interested in Arvo Pärt’s creative heritage. For the everyday visitors’ people can enjoy the exhibitions, we deliver educational programmes and we organize concerts, talks, film screenings, public events etc.

Arvo Pärt Centre’s educational staff has developed three different educational programmes for children of the different age groups:

a) In the footsteps of Arvo Pärt - Educational programme for primary school and final-year kindergarten groups;

b) The path to one’s own sound - Educational programme for lower secondary pupils;

c) The path to one’s own music - Educational programme for the upper secondary school.

The educational programmes are mainly ordered by schoolteachers and children participate in the programme as a group and they are always accompanied by an adult person.

Children can also visit the Arvo Pärt Centre as single visitors together with their family. A special exposition is worked out for children where they can listen to the music by Arvo Pärt (includes children-songs), watch the cartoons were Arvo Pärt’s music is used (mainly from the 1960ies and 1070ies) and play with the interactive wall.

During the summer period people also can visit a 32 m high tower and enjoy the beautiful view. The Centre has worked out the rules how people can visit the tower, so that the visit is safe to the visitors. The children under the age of 12 should be accompanied by an adult. One staff member it always present near tower in order to facilitate the visit.

Safeguarding the children that we come into contact with throughout our work is a key priority for Arvo Pärt Centre. It is individual and collective responsibility to ensure that all children are protected from deliberate or unintentional acts that lead to the risk of, or actual, harm caused by Arvo Pärt Centre staff, representatives, partners, volunteers, contractors and visitors to our programmes.

Arvo Pärt Centre is fully committed to the safeguarding of children and has zero tolerance towards any kind of child abuse by our staff, our partner’s staff and those who represent us.

Everyone working for Arvo Pärt Centre, whether in a paid or voluntary capacity, has to be highly aware that challenges related to the safeguarding of children’s well-being as well as children’s best interest are of the highest possible importance.

The obligation to ensure the safety of children is the responsibility of all Arvo Pärt Centre employees and representatives, and this obligation is primarily stated in this Child Safeguarding Policy (hereinafter referred to as “Policy”). 8. COMMUNICATION GUIDELINES FOR STAFF MEMBERS AND OTHER REPRESENTATIVES

As a representative of Arvo Pärt Centre, please be mindful when using your personal social media accounts.

The Child Safeguarding Policy and Code of Conduct with children applies to your personal and professional lives, and all use of social media should be governed by the principles of respecting and protecting Children. To ensure that Children are safe and represented with dignity and care, the following guidance has been developed:

- Any contact with the children and their guardians for marketing purposes, media exposure, consultation, participation or support should be with their written permission, and not exploit neither child nor his guardian, make them more vulnerable, or expose them to risk.

- Anyone who publishes images, texts, videos, or information about children and other members of vulnerable groups on behalf of the Arvo Pärt Centre must do everything to prevent illegal access and inappropriate use of these contents.

- The Arvo Pärt Centre strictly forbids direct communication through social media between employees, volunteers, representatives, associates and children or members of vulnerable groups who are beneficiaries of Arvo Pärt Centre programs and projects, which is not documented or without the supervision, control and knowledge of the Arvo Pärt Centre.
• Sensitive, Confidential or Internal Communications about Children: Discussing or sharing, via Public Communication, any sensitive, confidential or internal matters concerning Children, their data or Child Safeguarding violations is strictly prohibited.

• All site and program visitors including journalists and all media representatives must receive and review the Code of Conduct with children at Arvo Pärt Centre and sign the accompanying acknowledgment form prior to contact with Children or Child Data. On the ground, representatives and visitors will receive a verbal briefing on Child Safeguarding, for which the visit lead will be responsible.

9. CHILD SAFEGUARDING OFFICER AND REPORTING OF CHILD SAFEGUARDING CONCERN

Arvo Pärt Centre has a designated Child Safeguarding officer, who is responsible for providing continuity in dealing with child safeguarding issues and will take responsibility for dealing with allegations or suspicions of child abuse. It is not the role of the Child Safeguarding officer or any other representative of Arvo Pärt Centre to decide whether a child has been abused or not. The nominated Child Safeguarding officer will be responsible for implementation of the Child Safeguarding Policy into the everyday activities of Arvo Pärt Centre, conducting risk assessment to identify the relevant issues for the Policy update, updating of the Policy, setting up standards, guidelines and procedures, receiving information from staff, board members, volunteers, children, parents or any other person, who have child safeguarding concerns, providing contact details for complaints, recording information about child safeguarding concerns, managing allegations against staff, board members and volunteers according legislation.

All information related to child safeguarding issues, including details about alleged victims, witnesses and alleged perpetrators must be treated confidentially in accordance with the EU General Data Protection Regulation.

The Child Safeguarding officer will take action in the course of 24 to 48 hours after having received the report. Outcomes of the initial incident assessment are not intended to verify or reject the reported incident but serve as basis for planning next steps. The Child Safeguarding officers may also involve other co-workers who are able to support the discussion and decision-making based on their knowledge and experience or their responsibility with regards to the child involved.

All Representatives of Arvo Pärt Centre shall know the steps to take and whom to contact when concerns arise regarding the safety of children.

All persons related to Arvo Pärt Centre are obliged immediately (within 24 hours) to report internal child safeguarding incident or concern they become aware of to the designated Child Safeguarding officer. Reporting of external child safeguarding incidents must be made according to the Child Protection Act (see Apendix No.3). This commitment is included in the Child Safeguarding Policy and Arvo Pärt Centre Code of Conduct with Children, which is annexed to their contracts. All persons related to Arvo Pärt Centre need to be properly informed about possible consequences of failing to report a child safeguarding incident or concern. Failure to report child safeguarding incident or concern will be considered as support for unauthorized actions and may have significant consequences.

The contact information of Child Safeguarding officer is available online on the Arvo Pärt Centre website.

False or malicious allegations may occur. However, it is not possible to distinguish between founded and false or malicious allegations without following up on these by a full incident assessment and eventually a formal investigation. Not responding to a child safeguarding concern may result in further risks for children and/or the continuing suspicion against a co-worker which deprives them of the opportunity to clear their name. If a co-worker knowingly and wilfully makes a false report or gives false or malicious information regarding another co-worker, disciplinary action is taken.
10. ACCOUNTABILITY, MONITORING AND EVALUATION

Designated Child Safeguarding Officer is responsible for monitoring of the implementation of the Child Safeguarding Policy.

Arvo Pärt Centre is committed to reviewing policy once a year, analyse its implementation, and based on feedback from the practice, improve its content.

All records on the incidents, concerns and suspicions will be properly and systematically recorded and documented.
Appendix No.1 Code of Conduct with children

CODE OF CONDUCT WITH CHILDREN

6. discriminate against, show unfair differential treatment or favour to particular children to the exclusion of others

This is not an exhaustive or exclusive list. The principle is that staff should avoid actions or behaviour which may constitute poor practice or potentially abusive behaviour.

1. be aware of situations which may present risks and manage these
2. plan and organise the work and the workplace so as to minimise risks
3. as far as possible, be visible in working with children
4. ensure that a sense of accountability exists between staff so that poor practice or potentially abusive behaviour does not go unchallenged
5. maintain high personal and professional standards
